A trip is not considered a commute when a business stop is made en route or when an employee utilizes a canine vehicle that has been permanently assigned to the employee. 4. If no vehicle is available, the employee may use his or her own vehicle and claim current IRS rate for those miles. A copy of the Outlook calendar or other electronic calendar, which shows that no vehicle is/was available, must be attached to the employee expense report.
5. If a vehicle is available but the employee chooses to use his or her own vehicle instead, the mileage must be reimbursed at $.07 less than the current IRS rate. A copy of the Outlook calendar or other electronic calendar does not need to be attached to the expense report.
6. When a state vehicle is available but it is more resource-efficient to use a personal vehicle for a specific trip or for a short time period, supervisors may write a note on the expense report stating that is not resource-efficient to use a state vehicle. Employees are reimbursed mileage at the higher rate in these circumstances.
7. If a work location does not maintain vehicles for staff use, employees are reimbursed at the higher mileage rate.
8. Except for 4) and 5) above, any mileage being claimed on an expense report without a copy of an Outlook calendar or other electronic calendar attached is automatically reimbursed at the lower mileage rate.

 - d) Vicinity driving must also be noted on the log.

 - f) Units may develop their own internal review process to follow prior to submission to financial services.

 - a) Any other use of a state vehicle for personal benefit is strictly forbidden.
 - b) By statute, use of a state vehicle for commuting to and from an employee's residence is prohibited except for the following circumstances:
 - (1) On a day when it may become necessary for the employee to respond to a work-related emergency during hours when the employee is not normally working.
 - (2) If the employee has been assigned the use of a state vehicle for authorized state business on an extended basis, and the employee's primary place of work is not the state work station to which the employee is permanently assigned.
 - (3) If the employee has been assigned to the use of a state vehicle for authorized state business away from the work station to which the employee is permanently assigned, and the number of miles traveled or the time needed to conduct the business will be minimized if the employee uses a state vehicle to travel to the employee's residence before or after traveling to the place of state business.
 - c) Employees authorized to use a state vehicle for commuting must establish with their supervisor a normal commute distance.
 - d) Daily Travel Logs for employee-assigned vehicles must be turned in to supervisors at month end.

- e) Supervisors must review commute mile distances prior to forwarding the Daily Travel Logs to financial services.

- a) The state will withhold federal, state, FICA, and Medicare taxes on the value of such use.
 - b) Unauthorized or unreported personal use of a state vehicle may be grounds for disciplinary action.
4. Staff permitted to use state vehicles pursuant to Minn. Stat. §16B.55 must record personal usage using one of three valuation rules found in SEMA4 Operating Policy PAY0019 Reporting Personal Use of Employer-Provided Vehicles for Tax Purposes. (Most state employees must use the commute rule below). Questions regarding which valuation rule is appropriate for use must be directed to financial services.
- a) Commute rule: this method values usage at $1.50 per one-way or $3.00 per round-trip commute. Employees must record earn code "CAR" on his/her time record, with a 0.5 for a one-way commute or a 1.0 for a round-trip commute. To use this rule, employees must meet the following criteria:
 - (1) The employer requires the employee to commute in a vehicle for bona fide non-compensatory business reasons. Examples of acceptable reasons include: lack of space to store the vehicle, the expectation that the employee will respond to emergency calls from home, or security reasons.
 - (2) Use of the vehicle for personal purposes other than commuting is prohibited.
 - (3) The employee is not a control employee of that state. A control employee is an elected official or any employee whose compensation equals or exceeds that of a federal employee at Executive Level V (for example, $146,400 in 2013).
 - (4) The vehicle is used in connection with the employer's business.

Supervisors are responsible for comparing time records to the Daily Travel Logs each month. For employees using the commute rule, if commute mileage recorded on the Daily Travel Log is in excess of established commute distances, the employee must switch to the cents-per-mile rule for the remainder of that year.

- b) Cents-per-mile rule: this method values usage at the IRS standard mileage rate. Employees must record earn code "CMI" on the time report and report each mile of personal use. To use this rule, employees must meet the following criteria:
 - (1) The vehicle is driven at least 10,000 miles/year.
 - (2) The fair market value of the vehicle is:
 - (a) $16,000 for a passenger automobile other than a truck or van, or $17,500 for a truck or van made available in 2015.
 - (b) $16,000 for a passenger automobile other than a truck or van, or $17,300 for a truck or van made available in 2014;
 - (c) $16,000 or less for vehicles first made available in 2013; $17,000 for a truck or van;

- (d) $15,900 or less for vehicles first made available in 2012; $16,700 for a truck or van;
- (e) $15,300 or less for vehicles first made available in 2011; $16,200 for a truck or van;
- (f) $15,300 or less for vehicles first made available in 2010; $16,000 for a truck or van;
- (g) $15,000 or less for vehicles first made available in 2009; $15,200 for a truck or van;
- (h) $15,400 or less for vehicles first made available in 2008; $16,700 for a truck or van;
- (i) $15,100 or less for vehicles first made available in 2007; 16,100 for a truck or van;
- (j) $15,000 or less for vehicles first made available in 2006; $16,400 for a truck or van;
- (k) $14,800 or less for vehicles first made available in 2005; $16,300 for a truck or van;
- (3) The vehicle is reasonably expected to be regularly used in the employer's business.
- (4) The employee must keep a log to substantiate the business and personal use of the vehicle.
- c) Annual lease value rule: this method values usage based on the vehicle's fair market value. The personal use value is the ratio of personal miles to total miles, multiplied by the annual lease. The value of gasoline used is also added into the pro-rated lease value. Financial services calculates the value at the end of each calendar year based on travel logs submitted by the employee. Employees can only use this rule if they cannot meet criteria for either the commuting rule or the cents-per-mile rule above.
