Please return this form to your caseworker. Your caseworker will forward this request to the Minor Contact Restriction Committee who will schedule an upcoming review. The committee may or may not restore your minor contact privileges. If the committee does not restore your minor contact privileges, you may file for an appeal with the commissioner within 30 calendar days of receiving written notice.

The commissioner will respond to your appeal in writing. The commissioner's decision is final. If your minor contact restriction is not restored, another review will be completed in two years.
